

The Standard.

William Glasmann, Publisher.
AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER.
(Established 1870)

This paper will always fight for progress and reform, it will not knowingly tolerate injustice or corruption and will always fight demagogues of all parties; it will oppose privileged classes and public plunderers; it will never lack sympathy with the poor; it will always remain devoted to the public welfare and will never be satisfied with merely printing news; it will always be drastically independent and will never be afraid to attack wrong, whether committed by the rich or the poor.

NEVER WAS A FUSION CANDIDATE.

The Salt Lake Telegram was in telephone communication with William Glasmann yesterday and, in its issue last evening, quoted the publisher of the Standard as saying he would be a fusion candidate for Congress.

This morning the managing editor of the Salt Lake paper, when called up, frankly admitted that one of his subordinates, to whom the substance of the telephone communication had been conveyed, unwittingly blundered and a correction would appear.

The publisher of this paper has never said he would be a fusion candidate, but, to the contrary, has refused even to entertain overtures of that kind. He found himself laboring within the regular organization because he opposed a well defined movement within the Progressive organization to make the party an auxiliary of the Democratic forces in Utah.

PARCEL POST MEETING WITH OPPOSITION.

We do not like the attacks on the parcel post that are being made in Congress by Senators Bristow and Gallinger and others. The substance of the complaints is that the new postmaster general, in increasing the weight of the packages allowed to be sent by parcel post, has made this new branch of the postoffice service unprofitable to the government.

It is too early for any one to pass criticism of that kind, and those who are over-eager to do so place themselves open to the suspicion of being more concerned over the welfare of the express companies than of the degree of success attending the enlarged parcel post.

None of our great advances in the liberalizing of our government has been attempted without encountering the opposition of men high in public affairs whose sympathies have been on the side of special privilege.

A year hence will be a better time in which to offer comment on the parcel post than now.

AN OGDEN ROBBERY THAT POINTS A MORAL

With a glass cutter, two men entered the wholesale house of the Ogden Pharmaceutical company at night and raided the basement in order to obtain cocaine and morphine. It goes without saying, the robbers are "dope" fiends, led to commit their acts of burglary primarily by their craving for the drugs. The men took with them cocaine valued at wholesale at $250, which, retailed to the victims of the cocaine habit, should return $1000.

Officers and others familiar with the traffic state that a cocaine fiend will go to any extreme to obtain the drug, and will resort even to murder, and they predict that the thieves who made the big haul in the Ogden drug house will have great difficulty in retelling the stolen goods, as their very lives will be endangered, if the fiends with whom they deal learn that the vendors have any considerable quantity of cocaine in their possession.

The local wholesale drug house, like every reputable drug house in the country, has been cutting down its stock of cocaine and holding drug stores to a limited supply, any unusually large orders calling for a careful investigation. This is made necessary by reason of the fact that the cocaine habit is growing and those claimed by the drug are a menace to the peace of any community. The government is laboring to check the traffic and the big wholesale drug companies are co-operating with the federal authorities in the work of lessening the evil.

In certain cities, whose neighborhoods become corrupted by the habit. In Chicago, the workers in the produce houses are nearly all dope fiends. A few years ago, the discovery was made that many of the messenger boys of Salt Lake City were addicted to cocaine, and two of the youngsters, who obtained employment in Ogden, demoralized a gang of local boys who no sooner became regular users of the drug than they started out on careers of outlawry and had succeeded so well in playing the role of bandits that they had held up and robbed many persons before they finally were caught in the act of robbing and beating a Chinese gardener.

China has been cursed by the opium trade, forced on that country by the British government in aiding the poppy growers of India, and Americans long wondered why China submitted to a vice which robbed its people of their mentality and physical strength. Now we have the same thing brought home to us, only with this difference to our discredit that we have acquired the habit without being forced to open our doors to the brain and character destroying drug.

Some writers place the cocaine habit as above that of strong drink in the destructive forces in this nation.

EIGHT THOUSAND IN SALT LAKE

The people of Ogden cannot fully realize how well-to-do they are until they know of conditions elsewhere. Of this we are reminded by an article in last evening's Deseret News, on the unemployed. From a lengthy article, the following is reproduced:

"Salt Lake City today has, according to the stated opinion of leaders in the local labor world and representing the various trades and crafts which enter into organized labor, a roll of about 8000 unemployed men. In a succinct remark made by one labor leader, should Kelly's army come through Salt Lake, the city might be able to furnish some recruits to the ranks of the unemployed. During the present months there has been a feeling of discouragement in the labor ranks. It was stated today that at the meeting of the plumbers' union last night more men were reported out of work than at any time during the past four years. The carpenters' union reports that out of a membership roll of approximately 600, less than 250 men are employed today. Other crafts report similar excesses of laborers, and it is pointed out that in the different trades and crafts the majority of the members, averaging about 75 per cent in a settled part of the community, either own homes or have established homes within the city."

The adversity that is upon our neighboring community is in great part due to the unwarranted campaign of building "skyscrapers" which ended in the early part of last year. One factory, giving steady employment to men and women, will do more to place a city firmly forward than the largest skyscraper that may be erected. By this we do not mean to convey the idea that large new office buildings are not at times desirable and necessary, but, as between an outward show in imposing buildings and a less pretentious but more substantial growth in the creating of new industry, the factory is to be preferred.

Here in Ogden there is being maintained a nice balance. The main business district is not building faster than that part of the community in which new avenues of employment are opening, in fact, for years the demand for office rooms and business blocks have gone unsatisfied, until late.

What Salt Lake is in need of is factories.

MISTREATING THE ARMY OF DISCONTENT.

The authorities in Sacramento and near-by cities of California are making a mistake in bottling up the Kelly army of the unemployed and setting upon, beating and otherwise mistreating the wayfarers.

The men, we admit, are nine-tenths vagabonds, but they are human beings and should be treated as such.

Furthermore, the cry of distress which they voice should be heeded, not solely in supplying succor to the army, but to the extent of allowing the unfortunate to make their protest in their own way, so long as they do not go too far beyond the bounds of law and order.

There are countless thousands of worthy unemployed watching the progress of this army, hoping that the demonstration will arouse the public to a better understanding of the industrial conditions which every winter inflict on great bodies of the laboring classes idleness and want. We should do nothing to cause the heavily burdened to feel that there is no redress for their wrongs, no great conscience of right and wrong to which they can appeal in the hope of remedial action.

The way to make anarchists in this country is to display a heartless disregard for those whom our system has caught between the upper and the nether millstones of commercialism, and to practice the stern suppression of a car whenever a wall goes up from the unemployed.

BACK TO THE FARM

There are too many "dreamers and thinkers."

There are too many tillers of soil; There are too many eaters and drinkers

Who use up the products of toil; There are too many boosters and boomers.

With manners too easy and bland; We're cursed with too many consumers.

We ought to go back to the land. There are too many getters and takers.

And not enough men who produce; There are too many broad rolling acres.

Untouched and untilled—out of use; We stick where the grime and the dirt is.

And the streets with the poor are

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Ill., March 13.—Prospect of liberal world shipments had a bearish influence today on wheat.

The forecast was that shipments from countries other than American would be increased. The continued favorable outlook for the domestic winter crop tended also to discourage the bulls. Opening prices were 1-4 to 3-8c lower, but little reaction followed.

Corn developed firmness on account of rural offerings being small. Higher views of Argentine holders helped to strengthen the market. Prices opened unchanged to 1-8c off and then gradually hardened.

Sympathy with corn steadied oats. Commission houses did a good deal of the buying.

Higher prices for hogs were reflected in the provision market. Lard was in the best demand.

Rumors of a threatened break in relations between Russia and Austria gave the bulls later some advantage in wheat. The close was steady at 1-8 to 1-4c net advance.

Liberal sales at Missouri river points kept corn prices on an upward slant.

There were unconfirmed reports that the east was buying here in considerable amounts. The close was steady, 1-2 to 5-8c over last night.
